

ZULF'S VIEW OF THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

ZULFIKAR MOINUDDIN AHMED

I will re-iterate my view of the United States Government. I have never been a Federal Government employee or contractor and never held any elected office in our American Federal Government. As a result there is a clear separation between myself, the individual American, and the Federal Government.

I see the Federal Government in a reasonable way. I see it as a Black Box. I don't want to know what's inside the Black Box. I am willing to, able, and have always (a) followed the laws of the Republic, (b) paid my taxes without effort to evade them. I see myself have having (a) an explicit contract with the Federal Government of America since I am a Permanent Resident with 24 years of legitimate papers expiring in a decade, and (b) an explicit contract that the Federal Government must conform to by US Declaration of Independence (Preamble) and US Constitution.

From my point of view, Federal Government of America is functioning adequately when it fulfills its purpose of securing natural rights of 330 million Americans, and it is broken and corrupt and not functioning adequately when it does not fulfill this stated purpose.

It's very simple for me. Either Federal Government of America functions adequately or I will toss the whole thing into Oblivion and get a new Federal Government of America that does function adequately. I don't have any compassion for the various sad consequences to the people who make a living working in the Federal Government of America if it's not functioning adequately.

I like the analogy of the toaster. If the toaster does not toast white bread to nice crispiness so the toasted bread is satisfaction-provoking with the scrambled eggs with cheese, the butter, the sausage, and the coffee and orange juice, I junk the toaster, and get a new one that does that job. I don't see any difference with the Federal Government of America. It's a toaster to me.
