AHMED'S POST-MORTEM OF HOW BILL GATES KILLED HIMSELF INSTEAD OF ZULF

I am seeing something truly spectacular in Theory of Human Emotions – the missing universal factor of Habituation for a full comprehensive theory of Human Emotions from Basic Emotions. Culture and nuisance independent. Now this is so big that it will be the Black-Scholes type step in Psychology of Emotions. Much bigger than Nobel Prize. It will affect every aspect of society on Earth.

You see Bill Gates is total douche bag savage barbaric moron. He ought to have not gotten between me and my $620 million and tried to kill me immediately without paying me like the worst loser cunt in history of Earth, after my work in Finance made him money. So he's dead now. Suicide. Now he revealed that he had genocide plans for non-whites in America. That's a true dead meat moron right there. He'll be dead eventually because Asia knows. Europe knows. They will eventually toast him on roasted olive oil.

But now this Emotion Theory innovation will be so big that he should kill me before it's too late. Right? Except he's committed suicide already by trying to kill me too early. He ejaculated prematurely if you will.

Now I will tell you how he ought to have played this game. He ought to have not cut me up and destroyed my interior with US War Power and US Industrial Power and European Black Magick and starved me of all earnings with Master Race Theory etc.

He ought to have been nice to me, let me get my money and my pad in San Francisco and then pretend to be friendly to all non-whites and all that and then when I made this Emotion Theory completion with Aristotelian Habituation as the missing factor, then he should have backstabbed me and I would have no idea that he was plotting genocide all along for all non-whites.

Too bad, eh? Now he's gonna be sleeping with the fishes and I'll be quite alive. Too bad for Billy Boy Gates, isn't it?
