

BILL GATES IS INFERIOR INTELLECTUALLY TO 80% OF AMERICAN COLLEGE GRADUATES

ZULFIKAR MOINUDDIN AHMED

I will make the case here based on very little information that Bill Gates is intellectually inferior to 80% of American college graduates. I will bring to light some key points that you will have to take for granted. They are true, and you will eventually verify it from authoritative sources.

We begin with some propositions that Bill Gates believes.

- Hammurabi was white
- My SAT score was 1590
- He claims that scientific theories are arbitrary
- He claims Rainer Maria Rilke's poetry are just words thrown together

Let's start with inference from these two beliefs. Around 80% of American college graduates are aware that Sumeria and Mesopotamia are in Iraq-Syria region in the Middle East. Hammurabi was an Amorite king who lived between 1810-1750 BC. This is well-known. Bill Gates intellectual level is such that he cannot infer that it is almost impossible that Hammurabi could have been white because of time period as in Europe Mycenaean Civilization did not begin until after 1200 BC, and because of ordinary expectations that tribal kings in the Middle East are not generally foreign to the region. But he insists, despite quite a bit of research on Mesopotamian and Sumerian history that Hammurabi was white. This implies his intellectual level is inferior to 80% of American college graduates.

Second, he got a score of 1290 in his high school SAT. It's not a bad score, but he decided to propagate the lie that his score was 1590. This shows lack of intellectual integrity and a willingness to lie publicly. The College Board will eventually confirm that this has been the case. Lack of intellectual integrity is a serious case for intellectual integrity.

He does not understand how to do inference on Gaussians at all. His scientific acumen is menial. His claim that 'scientific theories are arbitrary' is more than sufficient evidence that he has not understood anything at all about science. His claim about Rilke's poetry shows he knows nothing about quality of poetry.

These are deficiencies of an underdeveloped intellect. Now 1290 SAT is reasonable for further development but he does not have a college education, and so he has never developed his intellect sufficiently and so his intellectual level stagnated for decades.
