

ZULF TELLS HIS SAD STORY FOR $2

ZULFIKAR MOINUDDIN AHMED

Sad stories have rational price of $2. I know this from the 1 train, the red line that went all the way up north to 207th street from World Financial Center. Years ago I lived there with my ex-wife Natalia Brizuela, in a large three bedroom and the owner was an Anthony Simonetti.

I was thinking about my dreadful financial situation. I am owed $620 million that I cannot collect because this miserable worthless lowlife son of a bitch Bill Gates obstructed my legitimate earnings and damaged my Finance meta and even my personal finances.

I traverse back to summer of 2008. I could have looked for another $200k engagement right away. I would have had $350-400k per year by now, a pad, a good romantic relationship in posh part of San Francisco or New York. But that's not what I did. I ended up spending a decade of my life chasing dreams, four-sphere theory and others.

A decade of verbal abuse and denigration in Allen Texas, and FBI accusing me of outrageous fantastic scenarios instead, like a sniper type, a dangerous threat to Bill Gates physically from 2100 miles away, so much so that they are forcing me to go through the mental health circuit around Allen.

Of course I want to wipe out the miserable worthless son of a bitch, white supremacist Bill Gates, because he dared to damage my American Dream. Who the fuck is he to get in my way? He's nobody. I am a proven immortal genius and he has no significant achievement worth a dime. His third rate software is nothing compared to the greatness and immortality of mine. I can code infinitely better than that scumbag. He is a dipshit moron with intellect smaller than a small pea.

Anyway, I am obviously filled with resentment about how my own government is treating me. To believe that after all that I have done for the nation and the world, to be humiliated like a criminal in front of my aunt and my brother, it rankles me deeply.

But all that aside, I chose to follow Four-Sphere Theory and I succeeded. I succeeded in producing the final theory of eternity. I succeeded in overthrowing Big Bang. I succeeded in overthrowing gravity and relativity. I succeeded in overthrowing all of quantum theory. Single-handedly I have done this. And how has my nation repaid me for this success. "You are hallucinating that Bill Gates has cut into my deep interior. We will drug you and lock you up. Instead, we believe you are a violent threat to this man who has $131 billion in assets for security and lives 2100 miles from you, we are very concerned for his security and we'll lock you up." That's quite some fate. That is quite some fate.
