GIVES SOME THOUGHTS ABOUT WAR

ZULFIKAR MOINUDDIN AHMED

David Livingstone Smith's book I have been examining for some time, not with rigorous care, mind you.

I picked it up because I am in a delicate situation. I have a number of lady friends I like, some from Ukraine and some from Russia. And suddenly there is an invasion of Russia into Eastern Ukraine and I am obligated to intervene to keep my friends safe.

I made a proposal for Russia to pull back unconditionally and without any demands at all. For the past two decades I have been dealing with the effects of American wars in Asia based on lies. There were no Asian Muslim hijackers on the planes that rammed into Twin Towers and Pentagon at all. They were done by Israel's Mossad with remote control and demolitions, and then the photographs in New York Times were just random photographs of people who were not in those planes at all. I was quite enormously outraged around 2011 when I finally deduced that my life in America was devastated by this deceptive sabotage. And just as I was about to come out of a decade of no income with success in American Dream, Bill Gates cut into my Deep Interior and sabotaged $620 million in Finance earnings and blockaded tenure at Stanford University and Harvard using all manner of illegitimate murderous evil savage powers and the United States Government refuses to secure my natural rights violating its own fundamental charter.

I have been a lifelong believer in universal natural rights, and suddenly, at 50, I have to deal with all sorts of war issues.

War is not human nature but a failure of management of a number of problems; I do not believe that human beings are fundamentally warlike if there are assurances that their Natural Rights are secured. In other words I believe the equation is simple:

If natural rights are secured of the entire world there will be no wars any more at all.

The trouble is that the human race is not wise enough to secure universal natural rights and so there is still war on Earth.

1. WELL MY FUTURE LOVERS COULD BE UKRAINIAN OR RUSSIANS

I like Ukrainian women and Russian women too. I don't really want them to be unhappy and unhealthy because I want healthy children. So obviously I will have to keep all Russian and Ukrainian women safe till I have clear ideas about my Love life. Do you think I want Russia in conflict with Ukraine? I don't really want this at all.

2. MY SPONTANEOUS REACTION TO KETANJI BROWN JACKSON NOMINATION

HAHAHAHAHAHAHAHA BILL GATES IS A DEAD MOTHER FUCKER In-box

Justice Breyer is being replaced by KETANJI BROWN JACKSON.

Oh can you smell the roasted flesh so aromatic of Billy Boy Gates the non-white Genocide plotter. It smells so good, the roasted charred flesh of Billy Boy Gates the White Dominated World Order hick peasant-born charlatan. Oh roasted charred Billy Boy Gates seems so nice and aromatic. So much for his White Racial World Order plaaaaaaaans

Da di da da da So beautiful

Asia should be supportive of the gains by non-white people in America, now that there has been serious attempts to enslave by black magic and US War and US Industrial power an Asian-American by Bill Gates and his cabal of White Order plotters.

3. BILL GATES HAD BEEN ON A HIDDEN WAR AGAINST NON-WHITES ALL HIS LIFE

You see I am extremely upset right now at the United States Government, my own goddam government. How could my own government allow a malevolent cunt who had been on a war against non-whites and plotting genocide all his life literally cut up my blood meta and cause so much harm to me personally in my deep interior, and not wipe out the little snot-nosed worthless son of a bitch with all their drones and all the rest of the things they use to routinely kill random Asian fucks who have never done anything at all? I am extremely angry at the United States of America. Who the fuck is this Bill Gates? Why is his life worth more than mine? How does the cunt get to use US Industrial Power in someone's Deep Interior and US War Power without being massacred by the government? United States of America will not even survive if I do not see justice here and that means a totally destroyed Bill Gates.

4. JEBEL SAHABA SUDAN 13,140-14,340 BP

Jebel Sahaba from 13,140-14,340 BP discovered in Sudan in 1964 is considered the earliest evidence of war with 61 skeletons and 38 with evidence of trauma. This is most interesting. I am thinking about war, and it's good to know the rough history. Now I am incensed that Bill Gates has been using US War Power against myself, an Asian-American. Now I was against the Iraq war and joined protests against it in San Francisco and sold newspapers on Valencia Street and Mission for $1 with exclusives on the Abu Ghraib torture, and I was always a universal natural rights sort of cat even from early youth. You see I was shot by accident as at 11 and almost died with pellet still in my liver, so I never developed the martial tendencies within me. And now I am quite fascinated.

I am super upset beyond description that I was betrayed by my own government, the United States, who did not instantly eviscerate Bill Gates with one of the cockameme DARPA doo-hickeys that they use our tax-money on. What's the point of the doo-hickeys if they are used on random fucks in Middle East and not on hard-core genocidal war criminals like Bill Gates?

One inference from looking at the Mesolithic period of war is that at least Bill Gates's primitive inferior mind can fit into human history in 14,000 years. That's impressive. I didn't think the boy would make 20,000 years to my higher level of civilisation and cultivation. The savages are gaining on me huh?

5. BILL GATES' USE OF US WAR POWER

Bill Gates has used large amounts of US War Power against me that will eventually kill me. The next interesting question is whether in the roughly 5000 years since the rise of the state in Asia of course, whether there are many corrupt states so corrupt that their War Power is used by a random hick illiterate charlatan and worthless deceiver by a legitimate member of the state. Furthermore another really interesting question is when someone uses state war power against a member of the state what sort of idiotic moronic government sits around contemplating whether to slaughter the traitor or not. These are important questions.

6. I AM NOT PARTICULARLY IMPRESSED WITH BIOLOGISTS' DEVOTION TO HUMAN-GREAT APE SIMILARITY

"A key event had already occurred in 1857 when Richard Owen presented (to the Linnean Society) his view that man was marked off from all other mammals by possessing features of the brain peculiar to the genus Homo. Having reached this opinion, Owen separated man from all other mammals in a subclass of its own. No other biologist before or since has held such an extreme view." [1]

I am just astounded by the idiocy of some biologists. Obviously human beings have features of brain quite different from our closest living evolutionary cousins chimpanzees. Biologists cannot convince the goddam human race that we are single race, but they consider it 'extreme' that we are not all that close to chimpanzees. No wonder non-scientists reject evolution theory so often. It's extremely stupid the way it is ideologically organised. My background was in Mathematics, and I studied Literature. I am glad I am not a biologist. What sort of a moron is actually obsessed with similarity with chimpanzees to such an extent that they thing human beings being different from chimpanzees as 'extreme'. I am not impressed in the least.
