

ZULF CAN ROUGHLY GUARANTEE THAT LUCIFER WILL NOT BE ON EARTH ANYTIME SOON

ZULFIKAR MOINUDDIN AHMED

I personally know Lucifer, and Lucifer is a Great Archangel. There are millions of Angelic Worlds in the universe. The chances that he will decide to take a sudden interest in human race is rather miniscule. Of course I cannot speak for Lucifer, but he's doing all manner of things. If he does arrive, it will be as a baby boy in some part of the world that no one will notice. He, like myself, is an Archangel of Heaven. But don't hold your breath. He's not exactly the type to get interested in Primitive Angelic Worlds without all manner of drama going on.

Me, I'm more free. Less busy, less responsible, and more interested in preserving my own autonomy. I don't like leadership of all sorts of complicated Archangel projects. I'm resistant to the arguments about how it's so important that I have to get involved, and quite good at convincing other Archangels that "Oh, yes, that's very very important. Good. Good. You are great and worthy Archangels. The universe is fortunate to have responsible Archangels like yourselves," and tiptoe out.
