

VAST CORRECTION TO WESTERN INTELLECTUAL TRADITION FROM ITS ANCIENT GREEK FOUNDATIONS

ZULFIKAR MOINUDDIN AHMED

In the past years I have made the great discoveries of regularity in human moral values across the world. These are monumental discoveries about the Universal Human Moral nature. I had applied it to refute completely the ideas of Friedrich Nietzsche and Genealogy of Morals. In this note I extend my efforts to challenge the foundations of Western Intellectual Tradition going back to the Ancient Greeks. The understanding comes from reading Friedrich Schiller's Fifth Letter in On The Aesthetic Education of Man. It becomes clear that there is a deep-rooted assumption on the intellectual division of Nature and un-Nature in Schiller's Enlightenment philosophy.

My empirical results establishing the Universal Human Nature has the implication that this intellectual division of Nature as Existence let us say without Man's artifice and un-Nature which includes morality is completely and fundamentally in error. The strongly dominant part of morality in all human beings are encoded in the 99.9% of the genetic code in common for all human beings and therefore is part of Nature.

This is very important, for it allows us to correct the entire Western Intellectual Tradition so that human understanding of Nature and Man are both in line with truth and does not deviate from it. This is a significant major development for it allows the improvement of the entire intellectual repertoire of all human beings in the future with firmer conformity with Truth.
