

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT IS LIKE A RABBIT IN A TRAP WITH BILL GATES BEING A PERMANENT LIABILITY THEY REFUSE TO KILL

ZULFIKAR MOINUDDIN AHMED

United States Government is now like a rabbit in a trap, with Bill Gates being a permanent liability for their legitimacy that they cannot kill while Human Rights Watch found that they had colluded to destroy me. After the outrage at the insolence dies down, I feel pity for their situation. They are now illegitimate for my status in America is solid as a good virtuous man with perfectly good Permanent Residency immigration papers USCIS# 046-077-179 and by US Declaration of Independence Preamble, they were obligated to secure my natural rights. But instead they colluded with Bill Gates to destroy me. Now you can see this as a pragmatic failure but it's not. The entire United States Government is shown to be illegitimate here. And they cannot move, like a trapped rabbit. It's pitiful. They are fragile and small, and trapped. What a tragic fate. And I am hurt quite badly, but I still have a heart. I am not a heartless man. I can see their pitiful sad eyes. I feel compassion for their twilight over here in Allen Texas.

1. LOOK I AM A HUGE MONUMENTAL FIGURE NOW

The entire United States Government which is a relatively big organisation and Bill Gates who has some money colluded to destroy me. Regardless of whether this was right or not, this by itself has it's own dynamic. The dynamic is that either you successfully kill me or you make me a gigantic monumental figure. Why? Well irrelevant figures do not gain any attention at all of very big parties. In my case I had relatively big parties interested in actually doing me in, killing and destroying me. And I am alive so I am huge. I am bigger than King Kong and it's your fault. So suck on it.
