

ZULF IS PROFOUNDLY PROUD OF MY GREAT INNOVATION OF CONSTANTLY REFERRING TO BILL GATES AS CUNT

ZULFIKAR MOINUDDIN AHMED

I have many other great contributions to my Beloved People the Human Race, but I am particularly proud of one of the brightest, the constant incessant reference to Bill Gates as 'cunt'.

It is pleasing to my heart this innovation, for it is a great tool for the Liberation of Human Race from these types of power-hungry monsters. Now Bill Gates is a great subject to test this. I refer to him as 'cunt' in almost every meta encounter, and so it does not actually have an effect if you only do it two or three times. It begins to show its true power when you habituate yourself to referring to the usurper of others' things and life and liberty, the tyrant-to-be as 'cunt' all the time, every time.

Now it so happens that cunt is exactly what he is. I do not refer to Bill Gates as a cunt in a lapse in my civilised language. Rather I have civilised 'cunt' and found its proper use. It is a moral judgement, and it is a negative judgment against those who are extremely entitled to continue with acts which are morally reprehensible. A man who does morally wrong things is one thing; one who feels continuously entitled to do it and finds all manner of self-justifications and fictions for themselves to continue is a bona fide 100% cunt.

I refer to Bill Gates always as cunt. I answer questions with 'yes, cunt' and 'no, cunt'. I like habituation. I am getting better at it. "The weather in Allen is quite nice, cunt" etc.
