

WHY US GOVERNMENT IS TOO NOOB IN REPUBLIC POLITICS

ZULFIKAR MOINUDDIN AHMED

1. STARCRAFT II ANALOGY

What do you see in this graphic? It's the Hard AI giving me a gg. I have all sorts of units in the enemy base. Now I am not very high level, but I am quite adept at beating Hard AI now in 1v1 maps of Starcraft 2. I will get owned by a gosu SC2 player in Battlenet still.

So I know my skill level now. Noob is when Easy AI swamps my base and I don't know how the build order works. I am uncertain about what to do next. I am not paying attention to which exact timing sequence is perfect build order because I don't understand how to defend against the first foray into my base at all.

It is in this way that US Government is inexperienced in hard-core Republic politics. You see, in the wider context of the universe, a national republic of 320 million is cupcakes. I am not joking of course. It's so easy many Republic leaders in the universe are going to get a postcard from Zulf saying Archangel Zulf was on Earth. They let a malevolent criminal deceiver cut me up for a year and damage my Natural Rights and were afraid of killing the criminal for political repercussions. They will enjoy it. Ah, the youthful races, the feeling of trepidation of wiping out a threat to the republic for 'political repercussions' as though there are any more political repercussions than giving VIP treatment to an archcriminal who is plotting to erase Sacred Natural Rights brazenly and cutting up eyes and wiping out interiors and the government thinks this is a highly delicate matter.

Hahahahahahahahahahaha

Now that's something. Republic authorities fearful of punishing a criminal cunt openly plotting to overthrow it for fear of political repercussions.

Hahahahahahahahahahaha

Nowhere in the Universe but Earth ...

2. HOW BLOODBATH SAVES THE REPUBLIC

You see when the criminal cunts with money are brazen and are violating Natural Rights of people without even pretense of hiding, right in plain sight and knowledge of Republic authorities, saying "Natural Rights are claptrap" and have immense confidence of their own immunity and not worried about any repercussions while the Republic authorities are the ones pussyfooting around and worrying about political consequences of killing a criminal cunt (i.e. Bill Gates) then the Republic is already too rotten to survive, and so a purge and bloodbath will revive it. You just wipe out all the corrupting influences mercilessly and even abolish the government. The reformed new Republic will not be as amused and accomodating to criminal cunts violating fundamental sacred precepts of the Republic. The rot comes from negligence of fundamental purpose, securing Natural Rights. United States of America cannot survive such rot. It's not that easy, having a Republic survive for hundreds of thousands of years. These criminal cunts will appear periodically. You need to just wipe them out without mercy or fear of any sort. Just wipe them out. If not, kiss the Republic goodbye. If you don't have confidence in the fundamental principles of Republic, you have destroyed the Republic, not Bill Gates.
