

POLITICAL TRANSFORMATION IS LESS IMPORTANT THAN PSYCHOLOGICAL TRANSFORMATION

One of the lessons I have learned from my attempt to abolish all Nation States and replacing them by a Great Republic of Humanity is this: People do not want to do anything that is required. In other words, whether for good or ill, if it requires people to do something with any effort, then it will fail because people will not do anything at all.

So now I have abandoned Political Transformation ideas altogether, at least today. I am working on Global Life Satisfaction and we can just make our Human Nature Model be the only Psychological Transformation goal we have, and let people do what they will. It did not occur to me at all in 2008 that people will simply not do anything at all. Later I found that 20-30% of people don't care for politics at all and find it infinitely waste of time. I also learned that there is a distribution of political revolutionaries and conservative elements. These things imply the fruitlessness of considering Global Political Transformations. Instead I think a Global Life Satisfaction company that focuses on inner transformation of people and explicitly does not take political positions is better. Certainly it will cause less problems. We do have firm beliefs such as Human Race is a Single Race. But that is just true, and not believed by people we don't want to hire.

1. BILL GATES' ABOMINABLE DESTRUCTION IN MY META IS AN OPPORTUNITY

Bill Gates' White Ruled World with black slaves and recolonisation is a Dystopian vision that will be stopped anyway. I was tremendously damaged and hurt by his assaults. Now this is the best I could have done. To the extent that his evil plans were absorbed by my body and mind and soul, I have been a heroic Saviour for my people the human race. I have been active politically a number of times, seriously. First in 2003-2005 I was a Revolutionary Socialist in San Francisco and I broke with them; then in 2008 I gave up all my possessions arguing in a Brooklyn court that all Nation States are illegitimate for their failure to secure Universal Natural Rights and seeking a Great Republic of Humanity abolishing Nation States altogether. That was a failure.

Now I am forced to take up arms against enemies of Universal Natural Rights such as Bill Gates without my choice in the matter. I am 48 and too spent to get involved in Political Revolutions any more.

Now I have a greater transformation that opens up, for I have experience with what is possible and what is not, and that is that we do not need a Political Revolution across the Globe for a better world. We can have a better world right now with inner transformations, and not provoking National Security forces either.
