

ZULF IS NOT SURPRISED THAT TALIBAN ARE TAKING OVER AFGHANISTAN

ZULFIKAR MOINUDDIN AHMED

I have no interest in Taliban. I am American and my life and headaches are American headaches. I just read a nice Economist article that shows that Taliban will take over Afghanistan after we leave. I am not surprised even a tiny amount. I'll tell you why. They had nothing to do with 9/11. Israel's Mossad did 9/11 and Muslims had nothing to do with it. So we are there tearing up the country and they had nothing to do with 9/11. Obviously the local people are not going to be enthusiastic about whatever are the goals Washington has over there. Taliban are locals and we were there for 20 years because Israel's Mossad blew up Twin Towers and we were trying to do what exactly? Obviously in the end the locals will take over because they were just fighting foreign occupation. Duh. Al Qaeda did not do 9/11 and their threat to us was non-existent all along. That's just the reality. Who cares if they run their country by their customs that we don't like? It's their country.

I am American, so let me write some American History, real American history, because I've lived through this period in America, not in Afghanistan. Let me remind you of how it all began. 9/11 happened, Twin Towers were demolished and Pentagon attacked. These were done by Israel's Mossad using remote control technology for airplanes. Now I was myself clueless about this part until I think around 2011, for a decade. I was, however, already active against the wars. Now it's 20 years later, and this loss in Afghanistan is a far greater loss than in Vietnam. Or in Iraq. In Vietnam at least we had genuine allies, and the opposing side won after some difficult efforts.

In Afghanistan there was never any hope. Why? Because these are locals of the place for many thousands of years, and we invaded because of this 9/11 claiming they were harboring the criminal. They actually asked George W. Bush for proof and he just declared war instead of offering any that Bin Laden had anything to do with 9/11. And Bin Laden in a long Pakistani newspaper interview said he and his men had nothing to do with 9/11 and Muslims don't care for those things with a lot of women and children killed. And he was just honest because he agreed to other 'operations' against our interests. I believe Bin Laden here. So our rationale for being there was based on lies. In Iraq too WMD was a hoax. So Taliban will take over Afghanistan. And we now have a huge loss bigger than Vietnam and that's just reasonable because we should have found out that Israel's Mossad did 9/11 and not started these ridiculously stupid wars. We got hurt, and Taliban won because they had a simpler story. Their country was invaded by a foreign power without reason.

We, America, cannot keep doing these things, make up shit and destroy all sorts of countries and pretend that we're doing everyone a favour.

1. REALITY 101 FOR AMERICAN POLITICAL CLASS

Reality is that the places of Ancient Civilisations, Mesopotamia, Egypt, India, China, have an obscenely great advantage over the West if they can get their economic act together. And in our arrogance, we Americans were not able to see that during the Cold War. We had thought that the world had changed permanently during the 15th-20th centuries and Western Power was supreme when Berlin Wall fell. But in our arrogance when we started these Middle East Wars based on total fiction, to reshape the world in our image or whatever, we gave a freedom for China to get itself in order and produce a competitive economy. We are now in a Civilisational squeeze, so to speak, as Asia will rise inevitably and our military options are shown to be hollow. We then are forced to rise above the sloppy ways of dealing with the world now. Our strongest advantages are individual Natural Rights and diversity. But for whatever reasons, in America, there is a suicidal tendency towards the opposite, suicidal division and racial strife. Bill Gates is obsessed with white rule of Earth. I laugh. No, kill Bill Gates. Zulf will tell you how to get through this.
