Dear US Govt High Officials,

You morons are a travesty, a catastrophe in incompetence. Read carefully the foundations of the nation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That, to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.

Date: July 31, 2021.

Where does it say anything about 'considering' anyone valuable? The United States of America MUST secure Natural Rights of all Americans ESPECIALLY ME. It is not your GODDAM JOB to consider someone 'valuable'. Who taught you this idiotic concept? Your job is not to produce SPECIAL CLASSES OF 'VALUABLE' people who are literally ALLOWED to violate natural rights? Who gave you government jobs in the United States? Your goddam job is to secure Natural Rights, not think too hard and SABOTAGE our foundations you stupid incompetent nitwits.

Thanks, ZULFIKAR MOINUDDIN AHMED

2. KEY ELEMENTS

This is denigration that is reserved for the most menial workers who are totally incompetent and I recommend not using it in real life at all. The key to this strategy is not to name anyone at all specifically. The strategy will not work if you name 'Mr. Joseph Gottlieb' or whoever specifically. The moment actual names are used, the individuals named have no choice but to retaliate strongly to personal insults. But without having any names, this is a powerful strategy because any response defending the wrong position is a politically devastating for it is an admission of incompetence and idiocy to the public. The net result is either to ignore the message altogether because no one was mentioned and so everyone can ignore it, or to quickly take the right position to avoid the horrible insults and slings and arrows that might result. It makes the position of considering anyone 'valuable' to be a seriously dangerous political liability.

Here even though I have no rank in US Federal Government hierarchy, I can force the hands of the entire US Government leveraging the discrepancy between US Declaration and other features of actual US Government with people's personal honour on the spot.

The results will be quite positive.
