

SEVERE CRITICISM OF AMERICAN CONSERVATIVES

ZULFIKAR MOINUDDIN AHMED

On some issues I do agree with American Conservatives, but in this note I will severely criticise American Conservatives for deep moral failure at a monumental level, so deep that they ought to be stuck for their entire lives with paralysed Conscience.

With Power comes Responsibility, and American Conservatives have totally failed in Responsibility regarding Abortion issues. They do not intervene and take care of unwanted babies all the way to college and adulthood. They want to pass laws against Abortion, but are they taking care of these unwanted babies in America? They are nowhere to be found when Responsibility is demanded. Instead they will make laws to try to make other people take care of babies that are born by their fault, because Abortion services are sabotaged, and refusing to take responsibility for their wrongs, they will blame the father, or the mother, and burden them with all sorts of problems. They are morally horribly wrong on this Abortion issue. They are irresponsible for the well-being of unwanted babies, so they should back off from anti-Abortion laws. When unwanted babies go through poverty and deprivation, are they there to take care of them? They are nowhere to be found yakking about 'deadbeat dads'. Such morally contemptible behaviour is outside the bounds of imagination for me.

1. MY OWN VIEWS

I am not Liberal at all. I don't know what the label is for this but I believe that it is hard to have a happy life in the real world, and laws of state should butt out of people's personal lives altogether. Laws today are an obstruction to young people who are lost and are trying to find their bliss. They do not need the state, which does not take any responsibility for their unhappiness and failures in life put more obstructions. I personally don't give a damn about whether people are happy fucking and marrying goats. If they find their bliss by doing whatever they have to do, and they do it without violating Natural Rights of others, I do not think the state or society should get in their way at all. Now I do hold pretty strongly conservative views about my own personal life, but I do not think that they ought to be imposed on the rest of the world. The state should leave American people's personal lives alone altogether. They are deserving of that much respect, to be able to have some autonomy on things where the state has no ability to compensate for failure.
