I, Zulfikar Moinuddin Ahmed, hereby swear that I consider myself one of the greatest immortal geniuses ever born in the human race, and assess my four-sphere theory to be greater than all the works of James Clerk Maxwell, Paul Dirac, Erwin Schroedinger, Albert Einstein, Georg Lemaitre. My discovery of empirical Human Moral Nature I assess as a great revolutionary act refuting the theories of Immanuel Kant and Friedrich Nietzsche. I do not have any shame in this assessment, because it's true.

Now Bill Gates invaded my Deep Interior violating both national and international law, in fact War Crimes and Crimes Against Humanity. He believes that I should feel lower than various people and put all manner of illegitimate pressures threatening my health, life, finances, career. He believes that these things would lead me to not assess myself greater than white people.

This is foolish. James Clerk Maxwell was a great genius. I am greater because four-sphere theory is more accurate than his Electrodynamics Theory. But I have certainly stood on his shoulders. It is most foolish to have primitive ideas about superiority and inferiority based on ethnic considerations. Individuals are unique, and the need for feeling superior or inferior is actually a significant flaw in one's mature personality. Bill Gates clearly has great deficiencies in his self-esteem. My self-esteem is healthy. But he is also irrational and continues to attempt to destroy my life – without much effort by United States Government to eliminate the threat to an American man's natural rights which they are sworn to secure.

It is certainly not my headache that an illiterate charlatan with self-esteem issues feel that I ought to feel inferior to whoever for whatever to please him. He is totally irrelevant to my view of existence.
