

ENGLAND OUGHT TO DECLARE BILL GATES AN ENEMY OF ENGLAND

ZULFIKAR MOINUDDIN AHMED

Queen Elizabeth, I happen to be Anglophile for my personal history; and my father was as well. However, rest assured that another Bengali man who had been harmed as much as Bill Gates as he have would have totally wiped out every single English person from planet Earth with extreme prejudice if English meta were used to do this harm. This is because English Colonialism was a deep wound to Bengali people.

It does not matter whether Bill Gates was ignorant of this. He used English meta to harm a Bengali ethnic American, endangering all English people. England and Bengal have found peace after 1947 after centuries of colonialism.

I strongly recommend that England immediately declare a permanent enemy of England with malevolent intention to harm the English people and take all action to protect English people from him. I also advise that you mention that I am personally friendly with England and that England and Bengal are not in a hostile conflict and are friendly.

1. WHAT I WANT FROM ENGLAND

I want England to declare intention to having friendly relationship with Bengal with the promise of no hostile act against any Bengali at all in the future; I want Bengal to reciprocate in writing. A mutual non-aggression pact between England and Bengal.

Then I want Bill Gates to be listed enemy and threat to both England and Bengal. Otherwise, I want Bengal to pressure England to either declare Bill Gates as enemy of England or accept responsibility for harm to Zulf and therefore in violation of a large stack of post-Independence treaties and seek all manner of reparations for them in the United States.

Alright? So basically, this is not charity. I'll get Bengal to slam England with all manner of reparations unless England declares Bill Gates unauthorised user of English meta to harm Zulf and distances themselves from Bill Gates and declares him an enemy of England.
