

ON BILL GATES' EXTREMELY WILDLY SUCCESSFUL USE OF "REALLY?"

ZULFIKAR MOINUDDIN AHMED

Bill Gates was a psychopath from birth. His destructive malevolence towards people is boundless, and his evil is without limits. But like all psychopaths he learned certain repetitive behaviours. His most wildly successful behaviour is to repeat "really?" with a little questioning end. I suspect he learned this from very young. He must have noticed that people respond to "really?" with automated habit of general friendliness and that was always his major weapon.

He is a purely evil heartless demon without any ability to sympathize with anyone at all. But the "really?" made people vulnerable to his constant natural destructive malevolent destructive and evil actions.

Why? It is because ordinary humans are socially naturall friendly and mistake his "really?" with interest in what they are doing, saying, and naturally respond with friendliness. But for him, this is the bread and butter of being an evil cunt. He constantly repeats "really?" while he is doing ten different extremely destructive evil things, habitually and constantly.

Is he listening to anything with any intent to respect you? He would not even understand what that meant. It is a distraction that is psychologically effective and he is a pure evil Demon, so he has mastered this so well that he constantly deceives everyone with eliciting expectations that he is being friendly. He's not being friendly but simply keeping people occupied and reducing threat for his evil acts. It's noise, in other words, but it's wildly successful noise.