

I AM AN IMMORTAL GENIUS WHY WOULD I BE ARROGANT?

ZULFIKAR MOINUDDIN AHMED

I don't understand why anyone would think that an immortal genius would be arrogant. Arrogance is a character flaw, and I think that it therefore implies that an immortal genius would not be arrogant. Why would anyone think that I, an immortal genius, would be arrogant? That's absurd. Arrogance issues are rather low level. Even people who are not immortal geniuses overcome them. Aristotle was an immortal genius and he explicitly writes in Nicomachean Ethics about how arrogance and hubris are not virtuous.
