

ZULF EXPLAINS HOW SOMEONE CAN CONTROL TED CRUZ

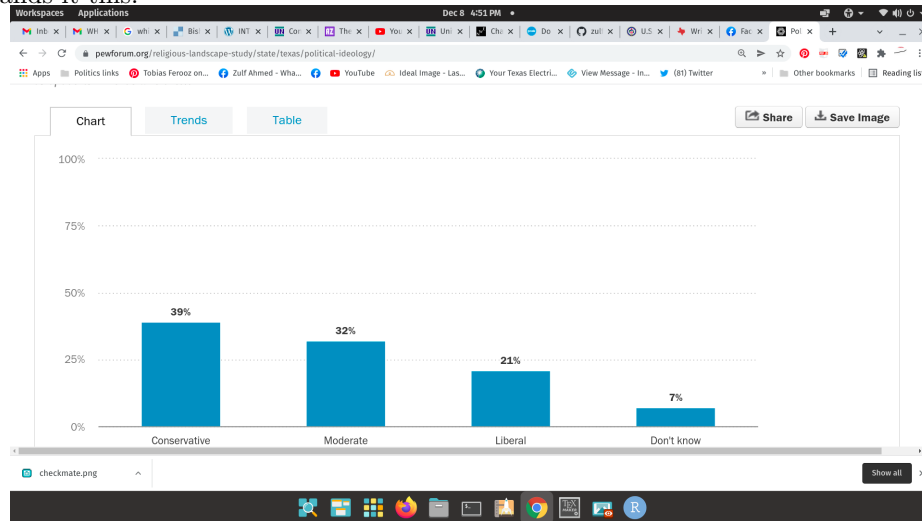

ZULFIKAR MOINUDDIN AHMED

Bill Gates he can buy Senator Ted Cruz. Well he cannot. In order to control Ted Cruz, who is an American Legislator from Texas, there is only one legitimate way. That way is that he can produce a situation where the constituents of Ted Cruz relay Bill Gates opinions to him.

Let us analyse quickly whether Bill Gates can do this.

Texas has 29 million people. Therefore if Bill Gates wants to control Ted Cruz, he has to find some way of making his own political opinions be spoken through 29 million Texans – i.e. he has to make them his sock puppets.

Let's see what he can do here. The breakdown of Texas political opinion as it stands is this.

see, Conservatives have a minority who do believe whites are superior. He has no chance of moving the rest at all, so liberals, moderates and others are 60% of Senator Cruz constituents who will have conniptions on 'whites are superior' type racial ideology. In other words Senator Ted Cruz cannot afford to have that sort of view at all if he wants to stick around as Texas US Senator.

I want to emphasize now that white Conservative racial biases are stronger than white Liberals but it's not a simple binary situation. Let's take a look quickly at white people who think black people are dumber than white people. This is a good source for understanding this [1]

This will tell you that among white Republicans and white Democrats percent who think blacks are dumber than whites is around 15% and with a slightly higher percent for Republicans.

This might safely be considered the national white view of 'blacks are dumber'. I will reveal my opinion: I think that you have absolutely no idea if anyone is dumb or bright or highly refined or totally uncouth without spending some time investigating the situation. You can't determine this easily. I am quite certain today that Bill Gates is dumber on most things than a small frog but he wears a suit and tie and pretends to be smart on television. I don't think you can tell easily who is dumb and who is smart without some experience.

Anyway, so at most 15% of Texans are going to even agree with the statement 'whites are superior because blacks are dumber'. I happen to be much more intelligent than Bill Gates, so he is not going very far with his 'whites are superior' with me.

Now Asian-Americans are 8% of the total population, and these racist whites are around 9%. Asian-Americans can produce direct conflict with these 8% of whites and have a chance of producing results. These are the core white racists among white Americans. They are troublemakers and have to be addressed.
