

RUMINATIONS ON THINGS NOVEMBER 30 2021

ZULFIKAR MOINUDDIN AHMED

My aunt is talking on the phone after being an impossible demeaning bitch all day and I did not say a word and did not beat the shit out of her which any ordinary man would think she deserves. Now she is talking about her idol, her father, who was involved in Bangladesh politics as a self-made big man in Awami League, one of the parties in Bangladesh. She has no idea, thank Heavens, that I am literally doing democratic politics right here at the United Nations in the same house as her puny world at levels that would be impossible for her idol, my maternal grandfather to even imagine possible. I have literally made a pitch to represent some fifty nations of Asia with Article 34 power to United Nations Security Council with the goal of ensuring that parties in America who are preparing for wars in Asia are prosecuted by United Nations Security Council against the will of UN Security Council US Representative.

Now Bill Gates says he's white so he's superior and has more power. This is making me smile. I am playing fifty thousand miles higher than any ethnicity bound politician in history of the world, representing more ethnicities all at once in an actual political forum, and this illiterate miserable little wretch thinks he can go higher in geopolitics. He can't even win the political vote of the two counties of Podunk I and Podunk II in Boon Docks State in America and he thinks he can go higher than Zulfikar Moinuddin Ahmed, who with a word or two without any impossible promises has united all of Asia without a shot fired. Alexander of Macedon and Cyrus the Great learn something from Zulf over here. You do not need to conquer territory and sack the cities and enslave the children and women to gain the trust of 4.5 billion people. You just have to remind them that you do genuinely love them and you'll do your best not more and not less to ensure that they are not harmed.

Billy Boy does not understand that this is slightly more important in politics than saying in an arrogant manner, "I'm brown. I'm brown. So you need to kowtow." Fine fine he is a good charlatan, but there is much more to politics than "Kneel, for I am Pharaoh Anakhanatanatum". That only works in Ancient Egypt and only when Anakhanatanatum is a beloved Pharaoh and not a white man pretending to be Anakhanatanatum.

1. LOYALTY TO AMERICA DOES NOT OBLIGATE ME TO TOLERATE THREATS FROM US GOVT

See, United States is a Multi-Ethnic Classical Liberal Democratic Republic. Ever since NSC-68 the government took on the role of making threat to peace and security without any Congressional input as a way of life. Why in the world would I ever be loyal to that. No I will be American and prosecute the parts of American Government that is causing mischief violating UN Charter and bring them to justice. Let's not get carried away by what sort of loyalty that I will have for troublemakers hiding beyond democratic republican processes.
