

WHEN IS IT RIGHT TO CONSIDER SOMEONE AN INSIGNIFICANT AMOEBA AND MISERABLE WRETCH

ZULFIKAR MOINUDDIN AHMED

I am generally quite conscientious about not denigrating people unjustly. In fact I consider it a matter of nobility and honour, of aristocratic refinement to treat people with respect.

But there are important cases when you ought to consider someone an insignificant amoeba and a miserable wretch and worthless cunt too.

While there might be many different possible paths that someone might enter into this status, I will focus on one that I know about. If someone cuts into your eyes without provocation, harms your interior, family, sexual, romantic, health, life, and body meta, then they definitely can be considered:

- Insignificant amoeba
- Miserable wretch
- Worthless cunt

In fact I believe that you are dutibound, for your own self-respect, to consider them such. In my case, the culprit is Bill Gates and indeed he is these and much more.
