

US GENERALS MERCELESS MASSACRE OF A VILE CRIMINAL IS KINDNESS TO THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

ZULFIKAR MOINUDDIN AHMED

US Generals, merciless slaughter of the vile criminals is mercy and kindness to the American People. I specialise this from a deeper and broader principle that goes beyond nations: merciless slaughter of the evil is mercy and kindness to the human race.

Now you are wardens of the Republic, and you cannot afford to squander your milk and honey of human kindness mostly to the worst and most malevolent evil human beings who have ever existed (such as Bill Gates) because that is being accessory to the evil, disrespectful to the good who suffered his murders, and is a wound in the heart of American people, a great betrayal in fact.

You know that children's movie Star Wars? Well I was a child when it came out in the 1970s. It's right, you know. It's really good. It's not as serious as many Republics that do exist, but you are wardens of a Republic. Do not forget that. Your emotions are not your own in a sense. They serve the nation too. Be careful with who you are kind with. This is a Republic of 320 million; it is not easy to be just to all of their interests if you do not have sense for this.
