My mom called and she is very sick and needs attention of doctors and I am feeling miserable right now, profoundly angry at the United States Government because it is the corruption of cronies of Bill Gates that led to this situation that I am unable to collect my legitimately earned $620 million from Finance. It is hard to believe that such betrayal of an American doing productive work on American soil by my own government on such an obvious issue is not addressed by a 2.1 million organisation at all. It is their fault that Bill Gates exercised totally illegitimate power to deny me my legitimate income. All of United States Government will be proven a sham to the world.

I was watching an episode of Arrow on Netflix, and examining a copy of Philip K. Dick's later novels, Valis and so on. I am beginning a longer project on emotions again, quite cognizant that this project might never complete. My sleep is very bad, constantly disturbed by the irritating and droning disgusting voice of this miserable slimy, wretched, ugly, savage, murderous, sleazeball and charlatan, this Bill Gates. Why these cunts have to exist at all in this world is a mystery to me, but that's not really what is making me agitated, but the feeling of profound betrayal by the United States Government. Profound betrayal that is intolerable.

I could have collected my $120 million from D. E. Shaw a year ago and moved out of my aunt's house. I really don't belong in suburban Dallas. I long to breathe free again in Mission District San Francisco. Stanford University has not offered me tenure and even Madam Lagarde could not get past the machinations of Bill Gates. It might be that war and bloodshed is the only way out of this situation, but I will endure for a while longer. No one really wants to start a world war without careful deliberations. And wisdom stays my hand here. There will be other losses in a war besides Bill Gates and his cronies, and I am reluctant to pool them into my Conscience. What a disaster. I don't know why United States Government would do this. Well I am not them, and in the end I must make my own decisions.

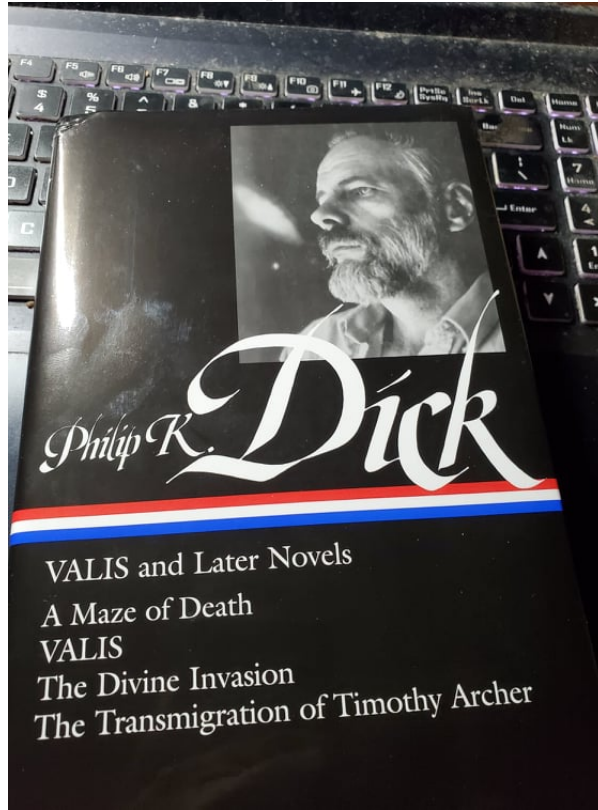

In a week Jasmine Sackey will take me to the psychiatrist and they just want me to take some drugs to ensure they conform to their mandates. They seem to believe that I am deluded, and I am hallucinating. I am obviously not, and I know better than they do the consequences of a savage evil criminal invading my Deep Interior and sabotaging the ability of Stanford University to tenure me repeating ghastly mantras of Racial World Order repeatedly day and night. These things are not part of their training.

I did not like the tone of my mother's voice. She is losing her will to live now with my sister having committed suicide in 2017 and her brother, my uncle Mehboob passing away here in ALS. I feel frustrated and I am feeling that I will need to do something to ensure that the Human Race does not face Dystopia I expect if these White Racial Order conspirators like Bill Gates succeeds.

I have a list of things to re-read and I am being disturbed so often that everything is slowed down.

1. BILL GATES HAS SOME ARMIES AND SOME MONEY

Bill Gates has some money and some armaments but $131 billion is a joke for his aims of a White Racial Order for the world. His views are shared by at most 5% of white Americans. He is deluded and suicidal and too stupid to succeed in the end. However, I am not willing to be sacrificed on a the error of United States Government. They ought to have responded immediately when he invaded my blood meta over-reaching his legitimate powers. Why doesn't United States enforce laws against these totally criminal evil cunts like Bill Gates. He is too stupid to understand that he does not have enough resources to implement any world order plan that is not even sufficiently prepared in the United States. He pretends that 95% of white Americans will just go along with his White Racial World Order plan without protest, which is delusional. The problem is that United States Government is totally incompetent and ineffective against his type of criminals.

I hate this. In a proper Civilised country, the criminal would do something that requires government to step in on behalf of the good guy-i.e. myself- and put the bad guy-i.e. Bill Gates-into the slammer and life would continue with me getting my money with the bad guy out of the way a bit annoyed but overall glad that those big guys with guns who keep repeating "Gimme something to shoot" in the United States Government and all those guys with sunglasses who look like Mr. Smith would be busy on the job and I, Zulfikar Moinuddin Ahmed, would be telling these stories to excite nubile beautiful ladies in San Francisco with the expectation of ensuring their affections from rivals without my tales of adventures which are fantastic and rare without actually having to enter into dangers that could actually threaten my life. The developing narrative here is not as pleasing to my sensibilities at all.
