First of all, I am from an Aristocratic lineage of Vedic Origins with three thousand years of history. Let's look at my photograph.

Second, let's look at my Virtues.

These are world class virtues. I do love my beloved people the Human Race, so my top Virtue, Love is not for wretched illiterate charlatan posers with savage barbaric destructive malice and malevolence hiding behind 'tribal concern for whites' but for the entire human race minus the malignant cancerous pathogens like Bill Gates. This is by far the worst human being ever born, and born to a peasant stock lineage. His intellectual level is mildly higher than a chipmunk.

That brings me to intellectual genius. I was a stellar student in high school in New York 1987-1991 and got all sorts of 5 on Chemistry, Physics C, Calculus BC, and in English only 4 and some others and I was the Valedictorian of my high school, passed all New York Regents Exams with flying colours, attended Princeton University and graduated magna cum laude with many graduate courses in Mathematics and Literature in 1995. I won the prize for the most original thesis of 1995 supervised by Jeff McNeal who is a superb analyst and who has been the head of Ohio State University Mathematics faculty for many years now. I took classes by Peter Sarnak, Nick Katz, Elias Stein, Joe Kohn, Stanley Corngold, Caryl Emerson, Bas Van Fraassen, and many other luminaries of Mathematics as well as Literature.

Then I worked at Lehman Brothers Fixed Income Derivative Research from 1995 while I was negotiating graduate school. At Columbia University I was mostly involved in my own study and ended up working with Daniel Stroock at MIT and have a single paper published jointly with him [?]. Then I worked in Technology, Science, Finance at senior levels. From 2008 I gave up all other things, abandoned my material possessions and sought truth and spiritual enlightenment and was hobo. I was on a quest that had many deep personal spiritual revelations and also solidified four-sphere theory which are the Final Exact Laws Of Nature. It is nominally a theory but it is actually simply the exact mathematical structure of Nature lightyears beyond anything Albert Einstein, Erwin Schroedinger, Paul Dirac, Isaac Newton, or anyone else in history could have imagined. Four-sphere theory is the final theory of macroscopic physics. I already was excited in 2008 but it took a decade to make enough progress to strongly refute gravity, and redshift, explain wave-particle duality clearly, and produce a theory that was exactly correct overthrowing quantum electrodynamics properly. This is work of immortal genius.

Bill Gates, on the other hand was a poser and a charlatan and an intellectual imposter and he was a college dropout and a pure murderous criminal pretending to be benevolent for the past five decades. His virtues and intellect are both abnormal. His virtues are extremely negative and now low. He is a wilfull mass murderer, believes in conquest and slavery and racial dominance of Earth. I believe in Natural Rights Security of eight billion people like the Founders of America.

There is no arena where he is superior at all. My ideas can make much more money than his did and all his achievements were menial compared to mine. I am strictly superior to Bill Gates.
