

PARSIMONIOUS MYSTERY RELIGION OF REASON

ZULFIKAR MOINUDDIN AHMED

All the old religions of the world really arose in the Axial Age, around 800-200 BC. They are varied and complicated. Today I decided to lay down the principles of a much simpler religion and I hope to sweep the whole planet with it, finally overcoming Buddha, Christ, and Muhammad. I am rather impressed by these great men. They have done a pretty dashing job of taking over the world. I hope that my new religion will be even more successful than theirs.

First, I have my own faith. That faith I am not propagating. I am propagating a Parsimonious Reason based Mystery Cult of Nature that is based on Four-Sphere Theory.

The major fundamentals of this new religion are the following.

- All things that have objective existence are specified by Four-Sphere Theory which includes linear infinite past and future and eternal recurrence
- All things known and validated is human knowledge and the rest is Mystery of Nature and Fate

1. NATURE IS ETERNALLY SILENT

The key feature of Nature is that it is silent and mysterious and never reveals any of its – or her – secrets. The silence is deafening. So this religion differs from prophetic religions that bring messages from God because the key principle is that Nature will remain adamantly silent and I am the messenger of eternally silent Nature.

So in this sense I will be the anti-Prophet who brings the message of no message from Nature. That happens to be my mysticism in Science anyway, so I feel comfortable with propagating this new religion.
