

ZULF'S COLOURFUL LANGUAGE THREAT TO UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

ZULFIKAR MOINUDDIN AHMED

Ahem. Ahem. Barry Simon, who I revere as a great gift to my beloved people the human race, and I praise profusely, which he deserves for his wonderful work, and also I gave up totally being envious of John Maynard Keynes. I used to envy him a bit, and I realise that I should never have done that.

Anyway, Bill Gates had botches my meta in such a way that I will never have any future at all.

This is my colourful threat to you. So listen to my colourful threat carefully. You see this whole thing of declining power? You heard of it, haven't you? All this discourse about declining power? Well, if you don't totally clean up all damage to my meta and return it to tip-top shape very soon, and get rid of the Anders Breivik-Brendan Harrison Tarrant-type man Bill Gates soon, you won't be a declining power any more.

Do you understand? See the difference between declining power and "Wow. What was here before? It looks like the cosmic vacuum right here."?

That's right. You will be the former declining power that no one knows where it went and people can't find it anymore.

You have been warned.

1. FINE I WILL GIVE YOU EXTRA CREDIT FOR RECOGNIZING PEN IS MIGHTIER THAN THE SWORD UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

Fine, I'll give you extra credit for recognising that my weapon is my pen. That's very good. I do have a pen fetish. I'll show you my pen.

That's pretty good. My favourite pen is a silver Cross pen and not the Gold ones. I don't really like to use any other pens. It's stylish, it makes me happy.

Now let's give you some credit. The English words "The pen is mightier than the sword" were first written by novelist and playwright Edward Bulwer-Lytton in 1839, in his historical play Cardinal Richelieu.

Now if you were English, I'd give you less credit. You're pretty barbaric and in 1839 you were wiping out the native Americans apres Andrew Jackson, so I'll give you an A+ for this deduction.

2. MORE TO THE THREAT THAN JUST PEN

You see, it's not just that the pen is my weapon, it is also a fine tuned understanding of differences in human prejudices on the global chessboard. You are disrespectful to many people around the world. That is your major vulnerability and quite fatal. Well maybe you will develop sense for things fast enough but I am holding my breath.

3. YOU SHOULD LEARN SOME ALL-AMERICAN REMEDIES

You know about the mass suicide of Jim Jones cult in 1978, don't you? Well you should brush up on your American history [1]. You don't have to kill yourselves that way. When the world turns against you this is one way out. You could also just gas yourselves. Ask Defense Department for stockpiles of nerve gas you could use to avoid humiliation when I turn the world against you.

Basically, the scenario is like this. You think you have all manner of rationale for letting Bill Gates destroy my life, livelihood, American Dream, and so on. But the world does not give a damn about your rationale. They will look at how Bill Gates is a racial murderer, how my natural rights were not secured by you even though I had Permanent Residency in the country from 1997. They will check and find Bill Gates was violating US laws and international laws, and they will mark you as a corrupt government and they will move to secure their people from you.

Do you feel bad that this is what all nations and peoples in Eurasia will do? That's your headache. They would be right to turn against you. And so you should have some remedies available. You don't like the Jonestown way of mass suicide? Well I am sure you will invent other ways.

That's 900 people around. You're around 1.4 million, so that would be around 1600 times larger space for all your bodies. It would be a bit of a mess to clean up but that's okay. Better check out how to do these things if you're going to keep not cleaning up my meta of all Bill Gates sabotage.

4. NOTE TO MY DEAR READER

I like the colours of the Jonestown dead. I wanted to make the threat colourful and look at all the vibrant colours in the picture. It's beautiful.

5. LET'S SEE CAN YOU GENOCIDE 18.6 MILLION ASIAN-AMERICANS?

Obviously you might try to genocide 18.6 million Asian Americans the moment you are threatened. Let's see, can we suicide you before you wipe us out if there is a fake sabotage in America to spark an Asian War? This is possible that you would do that. It's in your nature as we know from history. I'll think about this one.

Let's recall how you treated us during the war. I am not Japanese but Asian-American. I am fully confident that's your nature among white people in American government.

That looks like a Nazi Concentration Camp over there, now, doesn't it. So you want to do that to us, huh? Well that's a serious thing. We don't want that.

6. I LOVE MIDNIGHT'S CHILDREN OF SALMAN RUSHDIE

Salman Rushdie's Satanic Verses gets more press but I think Midnight's Children was a greater literary accomplishment. My father was born around 1946-47 so I love it as a part of my own history, a sort of tribute to my late father, Khondkar Miran Ahmed, a Midnight's Child with many special magical qualities of his own.

I mean it when I say 'my beloved people the human race', Salman Rushdie. It is not a rhetorical device but a discovery made by struggles and sufferings. You see my father lived for the well-being of the Bengali people. They meant everything to him. He laboured night and day to make things better for them. When I was young I did not even understand his drive and motivations at all. I was very introverted, and he was also Anglophile. Things were different in his life than his parents. They were Victorian in their habits. They had tea and biscuits in the afternoon, and they reveled in many things English in the peculiar way that Bengal had absorbed English culture.

I moved to America in 1987 and I assimilated not exactly to white America but rather to a very special mathematical America, and studied at Princeton 1991-1995. I wrote a paper on your work and Garcia-Marquez when asked to write about Erich Auerbach's Mimesis. I said good things. Anyway, at some point, I did have a spiritual crisis, since I was an atheist secular humanist lacking something. This led to anti-war socialist activism during Iraq war in San Francisco and the revelation that my beloved people is the human race, just as for my father it was the Bengali people, and the spark was Eliot's The Waste Land:

“My feet are at Moorgate, and my heart
Under my feet. After the event
He wept. He promised a ‘new start.’
I made no comment. What should I resent?”
“On Margate Sands.
I can connect
Nothing with nothing.
The broken fingernails of dirty hands.
My people humble people who expect
Nothing.”

This was my metanoia, my spiritual transformation, my revelation begun, and there was never a more joyful moment in my life.

7. THAT'S PRETTY GOOD YES I WILL RAISE THE COST OF YOUR DECISION TO ALLOW BILL GATES DESTROY ME

I have my limitations, but I can push the cost to United States for breaking my actual contract with me, from Permanent Residency of 24 years. My tool is the pen. That's pretty good too. So you're getting it slowly. Now you might not have any understanding of what my capability is for raising costs but it is substantial. My natural rights are threatened but all the resources of the world are available to me to raise the cost. The difference between your ideas and mine is that the entire human race is my beloved people.

Let me show you.

You see you were butchers in Vietnam in far worse ways than anyone has even found yet. The Mai Lai Massacre of 1968 was just one that got some press.

While the US suffered more than 58,000 dead in the war, an estimated two million Vietnamese civilians were killed, another 5.3 million injured and about 11 million, by US government figures, became refugees in their own country.

These are not fictional, United States Government. See I was not alive yet in 1968. But I know what sort of cats you are. And as I said, I will not tolerate another war in Asia. You are murderers and butchers, and unless you clean up your act real soon I'll nix you from existence.
