

ZULF'S RECOMMENDATIONS TO ALL MEN OF EARTH

ZULFIKAR MOINUDDIN AHMED

Being a man is a natural evolutionary issue. Men need to have responsible authority to lead a woman, children, and navigate the rough waters of life so that the well-being of woman and children in various ways is secured.

Men should strictly avoid engaging in relationships with any women who degrade their authority or do not respect them as capable leaders, husbands, and fathers. It does not matter how sexually attractive she is, how talented, how charming, smart, beautiful. If she is unable to support his authority, leadership, and does not trust his commitment to love and ensure well-being of her and potential progeny she does not belong in his life at all. These are horribly bad choices for men and they will destroy him, his happiness, and his growth as a human being.
